

LAFAYETTE

The Maggin Family Creative and Performing Arts Fellowship program at Lafayette provides support for students' endeavors in the creative and performing arts allowing them to contribute to a more vibrant campus community. The program is made possible by a generous gift from Bruce '65 and Jackie Maggin.

Selected members of each year's incoming class, designated as Creative and Performing Arts (CaPA) Fellows, may submit proposals to draw up to $7,500 over their four years at the College to support special projects, internships, research, or study abroad related to the arts. This fellowship may not be applied toward tuition, fees, room or board charges.

TO APPLY: Interested candidates for admission to Lafayette must complete all required forms for admission (and financial aid if applicable). In addition, candidates for the CaPA Fellowship must complete the application below and submit the required essay.
